INSIDE Westman News Bike Races & more!

From the Executive Director's Desk...

Our 50th anniversary year is completed. Wow, what a great year!

I want to thank all our Members, volunteers, friends and donors for helping us celebrate our history, our success and your milestones.

Heartfelt thanks goes to Susana,

Taryn, Tom & Eileen Czerkowski, our Westman committee members, Tara Schaan—our CPMB President, the Board members, all our volunteers, and you, our Members, for all the hard work. Please look inside this issue for highlights and photos of our Holiday Bowling Party (page 2), and our 50th Annual General Meeting (AGM) on page 4.

Thank you!

Your donations do make a difference to our Members, our community and society. Our equipment grants program is one of the main programs of our Association. In 2024, CPMB granted a wide range of equipment needs to our members, from specialized beds, IPADs and computer equipment, manual and power wheelchairs, specialized seating systems (that are not approved by government), adult walkers, Chill-out Chairs, three wheeled bikes, and some other life-improving items. Individually these grants make a world of difference to the recipients, our Members. The smallest item, such as a swing-away joystick, to the maximum grant allowed, such as a contribution to a van lift, may be the difference between being stuck at home or independence. Our goal is to be there for milestones, and to help fill in the gaps and barriers that exist.

We have provided support to our partners in the community, such as Boccia Manitoba (<https://www.inclusiverecreationmb.org/boccia-mb>), Manitoba Possible's Recreation and Leisure programs <https://www.manitobapossible.ca/childrens-recreation-and-leisure>, Volt Hockey in Brandon <https://westmanvolt.ca/>, and Barrier Free Manitoba, where we work together to help eliminate the barriers to inclusion in Manitoba <https://www.barrierfreemb.com/>.

I will continue to advocate for our Members through work with the Children's Coalition, The IAS pilot project, and other community organizations. Working together with other advocacy groups makes all of us stronger.

We have started a new year and we are well into the planning stages for 2025. Your milestones are still our mission as an Association, no matter where you are in your journey. Please take a look at our video and share the link with friends and family. Scan the QR code here:

We have a new team member! Alex Ptashnik has joined us as a part time administration assistant to help in the office. Alex is a long-time Member of the Association. Susana and I are looking forward to the help. Please welcome Alex!

CPMB Program: Sledge Hockey Success in the Pembina Valley

In partnership with Manitoba Possible, and with funding from the United Way Pembina Valley, we have a successful sledge hockey program. This year we have increased numbers to 11 players and 2 coaches on ice at the Winkler Sledge Hockey Program.

Here are some amazing testimonials from parents:

"My name is Yvette Mitchell. I have 2 boys that play sledge hockey. My oldest has a lot of different needs including physical and cognitive. He loves sledge hockey so much. It's amazing to see how much confidence he has gotten from being a part of a team and all the support the coaches and fellow players have given him."

"My youngest has ADHD. He started playing because his brother does. He has found a sport that he loves so much and he feels like he belongs. He told me just the other day that he can't put into words how much he loves it. It has boosted his self esteem greatly."

"As a parent to see the joy and excitement on their faces when we go to the rink is priceless. Thank you so much for your support in bringing the sport of sledge hockey to our community."

"Our son has been welcomed by the sledge community. He has tried many different sports and has not followed through and has not loved any of them until sledge hockey. Here he is accepted as he is, he is encouraged from where he is at. He has experienced so much growth and excitement just in the short time he has been part of the Manitoba Possible sledge community."

Free to Be Me: Five things I learnt while building a microwave stand—by Mindy Tucker

♪ Tell me why · Ain't nothin' but a heartache
Tell me why · Ain't nothing but a mistake
Tell me why · I never wanna hear you say
I want it that way ♪

**To those of you who wondered if I actually sang the Backstreet Boys the voice recognition of my iPhone yes, I did.**

This article is for all of you who recently moved out, and or those who are buying furniture, which needs to get put together.

I recently got a new microwave stand because my old microwave stand didn't have enough storage. The doors on it won't stay as closed, like I would like them to. It was not much higher than my other counters but when I saw my new microwave stand, I knew. I must have this. It has storage on one side, cupboards shelves, and a pullout drawer. How could I say no. And! It's the perfect height! For both standing and sitting! I absolutely LOVE it!!

1 What I didn't anticipate was, what I would learn in building it. The first thing I did do right though, I found a friend who could help me who also happens to use a wheelchair. Two people putting together a microwave stand when both are in wheelchairs is going to take longer. It also doesn't really work. Trust me. Bumper cars is not what you need in this particular situation. Anyway, this is what happened and what I learned because of it.

2 Even if the instructions say it will take you 2 to 3 hours set aside a week. And do not make that week right after getting acrylics put on your nails, the week of your sister's wedding.

When the reviews say, the instructions are bad, believe them. The only way this microwave stand went together was because I do brain puzzles every single day to strengthen my eyes and try to regain depth perception. I don't know if it works, but apparently it did in this situation. The friend I had going through this experience with me, stared at the instructions for an hour then in frustration gave them to me. I looked at them, asked what he was confused about. He told me. I turned the piece okay screw it in that way. We were so excited until we had to unscrew everything two steps later.

3 When you measure to see that your new microwave stand fits, always give yourself a couple of extra inches. My microwave stand is an exact fit. Yes it may fit, but it also made for so much more frustration will occur. Because everything is exact, pretty much nothing can move now. So yes, I did want it to look built-in but now it will not be moving until I move out.

4 Don't be afraid to email the manufacturers after the fact or even before, and get money off if your pieces or package is damaged. It should've been a warning to me when the package itself had literal holes in it. And at least 4 to 5 pieces were just cosmetically damaged, but by that point we were so far into it there was no going back.

5 Don't be afraid to realize when something is too much and you need to call in your parents, Task-rabbit, the IKEA building people, or even a handyman off of marketplace. If you're going to do that, please vet them first. Your body and mental health is worth more than, the money you will spend to put together the dang piece of furniture.

Though a lot of this seems to be common sense and you would think I would know all of this. Looking back, it seems so apparent all I can say is I wanted it finished, I wanted it now, and I didn't think such an adventure would occur. I didn't even go into the scratches, bruises, and pain which happened nightly. To the extent, my body no longer registered the pain. Been there. Done that. Have the bruises to prove it. Now I won't ever feel bad getting someone else to put things together for me.
